Sue Kirkland will be teaching 2 hours of Flower Show Procedure. She will also give us 5 hours of Horticulture classroom training and study on judging cut flowering azaleas and container grown Philodendron. There will be a point exam for horticulture on March 18

Park Finold will be giving 5 hours of classroom training in design. We will be studying Creative Design. A point scoring exam will follow the class that day.

On March 20th, a written exam will be given to all seeking credit on Flower Show Procedure, Horticulture and Design.

We welcome all to take our course for credit or to just come and learn about Design and Horticulture. We hope to make this a fun experience and have you enjoy the warm hospitality of New Orleans, and the friendship of the New Orleans Council of Flower Show Judges. The new rules of NGC state that all people registering to take these courses for credit must start with Course I or have audited a Flower Show School any course. If you have come to an NGC Judges class before please consider auditing again or you can take this Course III for credit. You will probably enjoy it. want to take more and will wish you had taken it for credit.

Instructors

Sue Kirkland-Flower Show Procedures and Horticulture:

Sue and her husband live on a farm with assorted pets and a garden that is absolutely too large for the amount of traveling she does but which she can't seem to give up either! In addition to being a judge and instructor for the National Garden Club she is active in her local Master Gardener's Association and is an apprentice judge for the American Iris Society. Traveling and meeting new people are always enjoyable for Sue and she is fortunately to be able to have fun and hopefully give others insight into the beautiful world of plants by being an instructor for NGC.

Park Finold – Design:

Park resides in Tampa, Florida, with her very understanding and patient husband and Goldendoodle. She has been a garden club member for 11 years. After discovering a love for floral design through design workshops she became involved in her own club as well as the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs. She currently serves as Director of President's Special Projects. She teaches Floral Design Study to Florida Clubs and is a member of three floral design study groups. She is an NGC Flower Show School instructor and is the Director of District VIII Judges Council.
